

Incels.is

March 2021 logo when site went back from .co to .is

Incels.is is the largest incel forum in the incelosphere.

Originally created by SergeantIncel on Nov. 7th, 2017, it was made in response to the ban of the /r/incels subreddit. Its status as an independent website offers its community flexibility and a greater degree of free speech, relative to other sites that expect politically correct speech. Discussion of illegal activities is against site rules.^[1]

The forum features prominent discussion of the blackpill philosophy.

An official Telegram channel exists to share news and notices.^[1] (<https://t.me/incels>)

INCELS.ME

URL Changes

The forum has gone through several URL changes over the years.

.me to .is: On October 19th, 2018, a permanent change was made from the domain incels.me to incels.is. Afilias (the organization that owns .me) dropped the domain due to abuse report raiding (threads at the time made on inceltears point to the subreddit being mainly responsible). While stated that the forum had complied with Afilias and done everything asked of them, the domain was dropped regardless despite compliance.

.is to .co: In March 2019 (<https://web.archive.org/web/20190403052212/https://incels.is/threads/incels-co.114739/>), the domain was changed once again from incels.is to incels.co. Improved SEO and better phonetics were cited as the reason for the domain change.

.co. to .is: On March 2021 (around the 23rd (<https://neets.me/threads/what-happened-to-me-and-co.3487/>)) the site returned to incels.is (at the same time Looksmax.me changed to Looksmax.org). The previous domains were arbitrarily suspended by the provider, having not given reason for the act.

Rules

The rules on the site have mostly remained the same over the years. A slight URL change occurred (aside from the .me to extension) between 2018 and 2020, where "terminology-and" was removed:

- <https://web.archive.org/web/20180525160632/https://incels.me/threads/rules-terminology-and-faq.799/>
- <https://web.archive.org/web/20210206062825/https://incels.is/threads/rules-and-faq.799/>

In 2021, a poll was made on the forum asking if users would like to allow or ban content regarding users who have visited escorts and their sexual experiences. By a narrow margin the result was "yes", and thus discussion of escortceling is allowed.

Style

The style of posting on incels.is resembles 4chan, as it is a third iteration of 4chan's r9k board, with the banned /r/incels being the second iteration. Its style of posting is impersonal, fast, jokey, and at times sociopathic, again like 4chan. A year or so after it's founding however, the admin implemented a rule where low effort posts are disallowed. incels.co has been known for its incels.co megathreads and cold approach diaries.

Although because of this process bans on incels.is are very hard to avoid, there is a ban appeal section for users who believe their warnings have been unfair or who want a second chance.

Incels.is has strong rules against bragging, as well as a distinct registration process. Users must include the reason why they want to join, as well as not use VPN's or proxies in order to avoid letting in spammers and alternate accounts of already banned users.

One unique thing about the forum is that it does not allow women to join, or for non-heterosexuals to talk about LGBTQ topics, according to Master.^[2] The rationale for this is that women would disrupt discussion in orbiter seeking behavior, and people would encourage incels to transition from male to female. There are feminists who join incel forums to groom heterosexual incels to transition to female and date males so that they do not breed. Also, see R9k for more examples of such behavior. This policy seems similar to a policy that the Japanese chan board: "Men Without Motivation" have.

The forum uses one of the more narrow definitions of inceldom, defining involuntary as only "against will" rather than "against choice or against will".

Anniversary

On November 7th, 2021, the site became four years old.

Significant Events

1st member to identify as female

On February 22nd, 2018, a user by the name of Chewbacca posted a ban request in the Inceldom discussion thread. In it, Chewbacca stated that she was female this whole time and got away with posting. Her picture, which was shown, fooled many people into thinking she was an ugly man. However, it is possible that a male user, in an attempt to gain attention or self-humor, has lied about being a female user pretending to be a male.

Nausea Cagethread

User Nausea used to post exclusively on a single thread in the Offtopic section of incels.co, due to his broken English and spam-like threads earning him many warnings otherwise. The thread was called affectionately by users "Nausea Cagethread".

Ban Appeals

The Ban Appeal section of the site is enjoyed by many users as a source of drama or curious encounters between recently banned users and moderators. The mod who issued the last warning which triggered a permanent ban is the one who has the call on whether to give a second chance to the user in question or not. There is a megathread in the Meta section where regular users can discuss the ban of others.

Numerous cliques have formed on incels.is in the past including Ritalin Defense Force.

LARPGate

On June 14th, 2018, user Heightframeface exposed another user, Whogivesafucc, as a larper. User whogivesafucc stated he had "gay(once) and straight sex" at the age of 12-13, and had lost his virginity at 14. Many people became angry at this fact and started to complain and raise their suspicion on other Novembercels, as well as other incels. Later in the thread, another user, Blackletcel, was also exposed as a 5'10.5 light complexed, dyed blond hair Tyrone (or Chad of African heritage) who was on a dry streak for 2 years. Before his dry streak, he recalls having a "foid on my [his] dick" (English: woman perform oral sex on him). He also stated he was a volcel because of his rejection of dark skinned African women.

Media Barrage of 2018

After the Alek Minassian van attack in Toronto, mainstream media went on a massive media campaign against incel forums consisting of thousands of articles and multiple TV show episodes, specifically against incels.co, despite the fact that Alek Minassian only referenced 4chan, and that to this day no mass shooters have ever participated on the incels.co forum.
